(XXXVIIth YEAR.) THE (No. 1850.)

MARYLAND GAZETTE.

THURSDAY, JUNE 27, 1782.

KINGSTON, (Jamaica,) May 11.

SINCE our laſt certain advice has been received of the loſs of the St. Eſprit, a French 84 gun ſhip, which was ſo wounded and ſhattered in the engagement of the 12th ult. that ſhe ſunk the day after the action, in ſight of the Cato and Jaſon, which were ſo diſabled as to be incapable of affording her the leaſt aſſiſtance.

Certain information has been received of four French ſhips of the line having arrived at Curaçoa, in a moſt ſhattered condition, after the late engagement, and from whence, not being able to procure the neceſſary aſſiſtance, they proceeded for the Cape the 2ſecond inſt. viz. Le Hercule of 74 guns, le Marſellois 74, l'Eveille 64, and le Pluton 64; the maſts of the three former being in ſuch a ſtate that they could hardly be kept ſtanding.

ST. JAGO DE LA VEGA, April 18. It is whiſpered, that the expedition from Hiſpaniola will be delayed until the arrival of 2500 troops from the army of general Waſhington, which may be expected in the courſe of this month.

PARKER's FERRY, (S. Carolina) April 17.

We have juſt heard that capt. W[illegible]mot of the Maryland line, has taken three officers and nine privates of the enemy on John's Iſland. The particulars have not come to hand, but ſhould there be any thing intereſting in them, the public will have them in our next.

In nothing is the cruelty of the Britiſh more apparent, than in their conduct to thoſe unhappy Americans, who have given implicit faith to all the falſhoods which have with induſtry been propagated by them. When lord Cornwallis and his whole army were taken priſoners, admiral Graves beaten off Cheſapeake bay by the French fleet, and moſt of the Engliſh iſlands in the Weſt-Indies loſt, it might reaſonably be imagined, that the commander of the Britiſh troops in Charles town would have been happy to have encouraged the tories to have thrown themſelves on the mercy of their country, and if poſſible, to have made their peace. General Leſlie, on the contrary, in his proclamation, orders them to ſtay in Charles-town, accompanies his orders with the ſevereſt menaces, and promiſes them ſpeedy protection.

Many perſons now in that garriſon, lament their credulity, and curſe the author of their misfortunes.

May 1. Laſt Tueſday week, a party of 200 refugees from James's Iſland, croſſed at Wappoo, and plundered all the inhabitants on Aſhley river, as high up as Mr. Thomas Farr's: one of their lieutenants fell into our hands, who, upon enquiry, we find to be a deſerter from the North-Carolina line. The next morning another party came off, and took Mr. John Linning priſoner, carried him to the iſland, and after detaining him ſome hours releaſed him, with orders to go home; but two refugees who were ſtationed near the Gut, ſhot him dead as ſoon as he landed on the main: the people in a galley ſtationed for the ſecurity of the paſs, ſeeing the body lay on the ground, ſent a boat on ſhore, wrapt it up in a blanket, and threw it into the creek.

The many acts of cruelties committed by the tories, and the numberleſs barbarities exerciſed by the Britiſh upon our innocent friends in this country, are too ſhocking for the powers of deſcription: turn where you will, the diſtreſſed widow and fatherleſs infant pour out their melancholy tales to wound the feelings of humanity.

Americans reſent the inſult! Call up the ſpirit of Hamilcar, lead your ſons to the altar, and make them ſwear eternal enmity to tories and the Britiſh nation.

Extract from general orders.

"Head-Quarters, Ebenezer, April 16, 1782.

"Five of col. Jackſon's dragoons, and young Snider, were ſurrounded and fired upon, a little before daylight on Sunday morning, at old Snider's houſe, near Knox's, by a party of the enemy, thirty in number, under the conduct of a major Dill, but without effect: the fire was returned by Snider, with ſo good a direction, as to leave the major dead upon the ſpot, a piſtol fired by one of the dragoons wounded two more of the party, which were all the arms made uſe of by our people on this occaſion, the enemy flying with ſuch precipitation to their boats as to eſcape the ſwords of their brave purſuers.

"General Wayne requeſts Mr. Snider and thoſe five gallant dragoons, to accept of his beſt thanks for their fortitude and brilliant conduct, in defeating five times their number, although attacked by ſurpriſe."

Two deſerters from James's Iſland ſay, that the regular troops are prohibited from any intercourſe with the refugees or provincials, on pain of corporal puniſhment: may we not conclude from hence, that the enemy will at laſt leave theſe deluded people to the clemency of their injured countrymen.

NEWPORT, May 25.

Yeſterday morning came to town from Block-Iſland fifteen priſoners on parole, who were landed out of the Ruſſar Britiſh frigate, the day before, on the above iſland; they inform that about ſix days ago they diſcovered a fleet of near 80 ſail of large ſhips, frigates, &c. ſteering for Sandy-Hook; that the captain of the frigate, after running within two leagues of them, and making ſignals, without having them anſwered, judged them to be French, and made from them, when they were chaſed a conſiderable diſtance by two frigates out of ſaid fleet. The Ruſſar had two prizes with her, which ſhe left behind, and are ſuppoſed to be taken.

NEW-LONDON, May 7.

At duſk of the evening on Saturday laſt, about 70 maſters and mates of veſſels, who were priſoners in the Retaliation priſon-ſhip, being allowed to be on the ſhip's deck, they took an opportunity when the door in the bulk head was opened for ſome purpoſe, to puſh through the door and diſarm the guard, 17 or 18 in number, whom they immediately ſecured below deck; having entire poſſeſſion of the ſhip, between 8 and 9 o'clock they began to land priſoners; and having landed about 80, nine of the principal actors in the enterpriſe armed themſelves with the muſkets which they had wreſted from the centry, and got out of the harbour undiſcovered, in the ſhip's boat, leaving about 30 of their comrades on board. As the ſhip lay about two miles above the town the inhabitants were unapprized of the tranſaction till 12 o'clock, when the firſt information they had was from one of the priſoners who did not chuſe to go off. The inhabitants and others immediately went in purſuit of the priſoners, and ſeveral boats were ſent out to prevent their eſcape by water; during the next day about 40 who were ſcattered in the out-ſkirts of the town were took up and returned to the ſhip; ſince which about 20 more have been taken; but the boat with the nine above mentioned got off. A court of enquiry with regard to the conduct of the officers of the ſhip, was immediately ordered by the commanding officer at this poſt, the reſult of which is not yet made public.

The following letter was received by col. M'Clellan, commandant at this poſt, at 12 o'clock, Wedneſday night, by expreſs.

SIR,

There is a fleet of the enemy's ſhips now in the Sound, they are 24 in number; they appeared at 4 this afternoon, about 12 miles to the weſtward. They are ſtanding eaſtward in a regular line, and are now oppoſite to my houſe, with a fair but very light breeze. A frigate leads and another in the rear, the reſt conſiſts of brigs, top-ſail ſloops and ſchooners, principally large. I am of opinion that they have on board 1500 or 2000 troops. They intend miſchief ſomewhere. New-Haven is as likely to be their object as any place. I have thought it my duty to give you this notice by expreſs, that you may be on your guard. I have to entreat you to forward this intelligence immediately to his excellency at Hartford by expreſs, and alſo to New-London, and the other towns on the ſea coaſt between that and New-Haven, that they may not be ſurpriſed for want of intelligence. You will excuſe this letter coming open, as I have not time otherwiſe to give the intelligence to Milford and Stratford. I am, Sir, your humble ſervant,

C. S. SILLIMAN.

Wedneſday afternoon 4 or 5 frigates were ſeen off Watch-point, ſtanding into the Sound, ſuppoſed with a deſign to join the fleet mentioned in general Silliman's letter: but there having been a thick fog with light winds till 10 a'clock yeſterday, their movements could not well be diſcovered; at 10 o'clock the above 4 frigates were ſeen over the weſt point of Fiſher's Iſland, at 1 o'clock moſt of the fleet from the weſtward joined them. At 2 o'clock the whole fleet, between 20 and 30 ſail, had collected near the weſt point of Fiſher's Iſland, and ſtood to the eaſtward; and at 3 o'clock (when this paper went to preſs) the whole were out of ſight.

NEW-HAVEN, June 6.

Tueſday a fleet of the enemy was diſcovered off Fairfield, conſiſting of two frigates, their convoy, ſhips, brigs, and ſloops, 20 ſail in all; they are ſuppoſed to have paſſed this harbour yeſterday morning, in the thick weather, ſtanding to the eaſtward; their deſtination was not known, nor whether they have any troops on board or not.

NORWICH, June 6.

On Tueſday laſt a fleet of ſhips and tranſports were ſeen in the Sound off Fairfield, ſteering eaſtward; where they are deſtined is uncertain. In conſequence, however, of their appearance, the artillery, militia, &c. of this town, are ordered to be in readineſs to march at a moment's warning; and it is ſaid notice has been ſent to the ſeveral towns on and near the ſhore, to be on their guard in caſe of an attack.

FISH-KILL, June 13.

On Thurſday the 6th inſt. at 5 o'clock P. M. we had a ſevere thunder guſt here. The lightning ſtruck the houſe of Mr. Peter Van Rants, ſailmaker. His ſail-loft was on the ſecond ſtory, on the ſide of which was fixed a lofty flag-pole, which, with the wet halyards proved a conductor to the lightning. Mr. Van Rants's ſon Barny, a hopeful youth of about 12 years, ſtood at a window near it with a gun in his hand, which it is ſuppoſed attracted the lightning, which inſtantly ſtruck him dead, broke the ſtock of the gun, and ſplit a poſt of the houſe; it then deſcended to the lower room, and ſplit the ſtock of another gun and two poſts; the fiery ſtream apparently came down the chimney rapidly, ſet in on fire, and threw ſome ſtones out of the jamb, one of which flew into a cradle where an infant lay, and greatly alarmed the people, but by the good providence of God, no other damage was done; during this guſt, the intervals were ſhort between the lightning's fiery flaſh and the thunder's tremendous roar. How dreadful is the artillery of Heaven!

The fleet that ſailed up the Sound laſt week, which it was ſuppoſed intended miſchief to ſome part of Connecticut, we learn, have made no ſtop, but ſailed to Halifax or Penobſcot, where it is ſaid a number of tories are gone to ſettle a new colony, under the auſpices of their gracious ſovereign.

We hear from Albany, that the Indians have lately carried off ſome people from the back ſettlements; the particulars are not come to hand.

CHATHAM, June 12.

Friday paſſed through this place under guard ſeven tatterdemalions, taken the preceding day on Bergen, by a party under the command of capt. Hendricks.

Sunday night four deſerters came over from Staten-Iſland, who report that diſaffection pervades the whole of the provincial corps.

The following, however adulating and conſonant to our wiſhes, we give to our readers as a report, though the paragraph under the Newport head gives it a ſemblance of truth, viz. That ſix ſhips of the line and ſeveral frigates are arrived at Rhode-Iſland, with a body of land forces to co-operate with the American army.

NEW-YORK, June 12.

The Britiſh and combined fleets now in the Weſt-Indies, are ſuppoſed to amount to more than 100 ſail of the line.

Monday arrived the privateer ſloop Tryal, captain Parker, in 12 days from Bermuda; on her paſſage ſhe took the rebel brig Phœnix, —— Sheldon, maſter, from St. Croix, bound for Providence, with 120 puncheons of rum, and ſent her to Bermuda.

The day before the Tryal ſailed from Bermuda, a ſchooner arrived from the iſland of St. Thomas's, the maſter of which aſſerted, that a French ſhip of the line, in attempting to get into Curaçoa, run aſhore, and was loſt.

We beg leave to produce the following particulars, brought hither laſt Saturday, by a gentleman of character, from the iſland of Providence.

Previous to the departure for England of lieutenant-colonel Maxwell, late governor of New-Providence, a diſpatch veſſel arrived at that iſland, from the Cape, requiring the immediate return of Don Cargalla (commander of the expedition which had ſucceeded in taking poſſeſſion of the iſland) with the main body of the forces employed in it, together with this information, that in an action between the admirals Rodney and de Graſſe, the French fleet had ſuſtained a loſs of twelve line of battle ſhips taken or deſtroyed, on which account the enterpriſe againſt Jamaica muſt be laid aſide. Theſe orders were obeyed, and the Spaniard ſet off for Havanna, before the veſſel which brought the above account left Providence.

PHILADELPHIA, June 18.

It was yeſterday morning reported, that capt. Lippencut was laſt Friday ſent out of the Britiſh lines, by way of Staten-Iſland, previous to which all the refugees were ordered into New-York.

ANNAPOLIS, [illegible].

On Tueſday the 25th inſtant (his excellency the governor having previouſly announced, by his proclamation, the birth of a dauphin, and appointed that day for the celebration of the auſpicious event) an elegant entertainment was provided in the ſtadt-houſe, at which were preſent a number of civil and military characters of the firſt diſtinction in the ſtate, and many gentlemen from the city and country, forming a numerous and moſt reſpectable aſſembly.

Dinner was ſerved up at half paſt two, and after the covers were removed, the following toaſts were drank to repeated diſcharges from the artillery:

1. The dauphin.
2. The United States in congreſs.
3. His Moſt Chriſtian Majeſty.
4. The queen and royal family of France.
5. The friendly powers of Europe.
6. General Waſhington.
7. The American army.
8. Count Rochambeau and the French army.
9. The allied fleets.
10. The chevalier de la Luzerne.
11. The American miniſters at home and abroad.
12. Duration to the alliance.
13. May the independence of America give freedom to the world.

In the evening the company adjourned to the hall-room, where the fairer part of the creation had an opportunity of participating in the joy diffused by the happy occaſion.

It is remarkable, that although there were near 500 cannon fired in the courſe of the day, and a variety of fire-works exhibited in different parts of the city in the evening, not a ſingle perſon ſuſtained the ſmalleſt injury, ſo that our heart-felt ſatisfaction was without the leaſt alloy.

THE partnerſhip of Wallace, Davidſon, and Johnſon, having terminated ſome time ſince, it is abſolutely neceſſary that the tranſactions of that concern ſhould be ſettled: the ſubſcribers therefore earneſtly call on all thoſe who are indebted to the ſaid company for dealings at Annapolis, Queen-Anne, and Nottingham, immediately to ſettle their balances by bond or note. Being well acquainted with the ſcarcity of money, and other difficulties of the times, the ſubſcribers do not preſs for payment, but a ſettlement; and to ſhow the world that they wiſh to do as they would be done by, they inform their creditors, that they are willing to give their bonds for any juſt claims againſt them, and to renew thoſe of an old date.

For the convenience of their debtors, they have empowered Mr. Edward Botelar to ſettle their Nottingham ſtore balances, Mr. Samuel Tyler thoſe of Queen-Anne ſtore, and they will give conſtant attendance at Annapolis for the purpoſe of ſettling the accounts of that ſtore; they hope no perſon concerned will neglect to comply with this very moderate requeſt, ſhould there be any ſuch, they may be aſſured that ſuits will be commenced againſt them the moment the courts are opened without any further notice.
